INTRODUCTION

General Information:

The California Office of Statewide Health Planning and Development (OSHPD) provides public datasets of data collected from licensed emergency departments and ambulatory surgery facilities in California. Each record within the dataset consists of one outpatient encounter, also known as a service visit, for each time a patient is treated. Data collected for these encounters include demographic, clinical, payer, and facility information.

Ambulatory surgery (AS) data include encounters from general acute care hospitals and licensed freestanding ambulatory surgery clinics, during which at least one ambulatory surgery procedure is performed. While not all freestanding ambulatory surgery centers are required to be licensed by the Department of Public Health, the freestanding ambulatory surgery centers that are licensed by Department of Public Health as surgical clinics are required to report. The recent Capen decision affects these licensed entities and is discussed in more detail below under the heading The Capen vs. Shewry Decision.

An ambulatory surgery procedure is defined as those procedures performed on an outpatient basis in the general operating rooms, ambulatory surgery rooms, endoscopy units, or cardiac catheterization laboratories of a hospital or a freestanding ambulatory surgery clinic. If the procedure was done elsewhere such as radiology, OSHPD cannot mandate collection from those areas not specified in the law. If a hospital-based AS encounter resulted in a same-hospital admission, the hospital-based AS encounter would be combined with the inpatient record. A separate AS record would not be reported for that scenario. When analyzing hospital-based AS records, you may want to include the AS direct admission using the inpatient's source of admission's site for Ambulatory Surgery and licensure for "Admitting Hospital".

Emergency department (ED) data includes encounters from hospitals licensed to provide emergency medical services. ED services include basic, standby, or comprehensive. Urgent care should not be automatically considered an ED encounter. Urgent care centers or clinics are licensed by the California Medical Board, and can be owned and operated by a physician or contracted out by a hospital, or act as a drop-in center for the ambulatory care clinic. Urgent care is not intended to be a replacement for ED. The ED encounter includes those patients who had a face-to-face contact with the provider. In the event of elopement or left without being seen, the patient did not have a face-to-face encounter with the provider and therefore, the ED record was not reported. The provider is a person with primary responsibility for assessing and treating the condition of a patient at a given contact and exercises independent judgment in the care of the patient. This includes medical doctor, doctor of osteopathy, doctor of dental surgery, or a doctor of podiatric medicine. If the ED encounter resulted in a same-hospital admission, the ED encounter would be combined with the inpatient record. A separate ED record would not be reported for that scenario. When analyzing ED records, you may want to include the ED direct admissions by the inpatient's source of admission's route for ER.

For more details on the definitions of the data reported and reporting requirements, see the California Emergency Department and Ambulatory Surgery Data Reporting Manual at www.oshpd.ca.gov/HID/MIRCal/EDASManual.html.

Disclosure Policy:

It is the policy of the Office of Statewide Health Planning and Development (OSHPD) to respect the privacy of individuals by protecting the confidentiality of all patient-level healthcare data and information that it collects, uses, and disseminates. Accordingly, OSHPD will carefully evaluate all requests for disclosure of patient-level healthcare data and information and will ensure that all disclosures comply with applicable laws and regulations.

OSHPD may disclose patient-level healthcare data and information to the general public only if OSHPD has determined that they have been de-identified. All other patient level healthcare data and information will be considered non-public. OSHPD will disclose non-public patient-level healthcare data and information ONLY when certain conditions have been met. For a copy of OSHPD's policy on the release of patient-level data please see Appendix A (Policy on the Disclosure of Patient-Level Healthcare Data and Information).

Modifications and Variant Action Reports:

Some facilities have applied for and been granted "modifications" to standard inpatient data reporting requirements. Other facilities were unable to complete specific fields as required and were deemed "non-compliant" at the time of reporting. See Appendix B (Data Exceptions and Modifications) for a listing of all non-compliant facilities and those with approved modifications and their affected variables.

Changes to Reporting of Disposition:

The National Uniform Billing Committee has made changes to the reporting of Patient Discharge Status Codes (reported to OSHPD as "Disposition") beginning on 04/01/08. Although these changes are not yet reflected in regulation, OSHPD is accommodating the reporting of these new definitions. Only two codes are affected, a new code, 70, has been added and an existing code, 05, has changed definition. Beginning with the second quarter encounter data, Code 05 is defined as "discharged or transferred to a designated cancer center of children's hospital". The old definition "discharged or transferred to another type of health care institution not elsewhere coded" is now represented by a new code, 70.

The Capen vs. Shewry Decision:

In the case Capen vs. Shewry, dated 09/19/2007, it was the opinion of the court that the California Department of Public Health (CDPH) Licensing and Certification does not have the authority to issue licenses to physician owned surgical clinics.

In an opinion filed on February 8, 2007, the California Court of Appeals, Third Appellate District, interpreted California clinic licensing law pursuant to Section 1200, et seq. of the California Health and Safety Code, that certain types of clinics and surgical clinics are eligible for licensure by CDPH. The Statute defines "surgical clinics" to exclude clinics that are owned and operated by one or more physicians, but expressly provides that physicians or dentists may, at their option, apply for licensure. CDPH had interpreted the Statute as excluding from mandatory licensure only clinics in which all of the physicians are owners, and requiring licensure of physician-owned clinics in which non-owner physicians practice. CDPH had also licensed physician owned clinics that voluntarily requested it.

However, on September 19, 2007, the Third District Court of Appeals issued its decision in the Capen vs. Shewry lawsuit holding that all clinics that are owned by a physician or group of physicians are excluded from licensure by CDPH. According to the decision, physician-owned clinics are subject to licensure by the Medical Board of California, which licenses certain "outpatient surgery settings" that use anesthesia.

CDPH has interpreted the decision as stripping it of the authority to license or regulate any physician-owned surgical clinic, including the authority to issue licenses that physicians request voluntarily.

Importing Notes:

There are several fields that although they appear to contain numeric data, should be treated as text. This is particularly important when working with diagnosis and procedure codes. These fields are comprised of ICD-9-CM (diagnosis) and CPT (procedure) codes. Diagnosis and procedure codes are stored without decimals and many contain leading zeros. For example, the ICD-9-CM code for Salmonella Gastroenteritis is "003.0" (implied decimal following the third digit from the left). If it is not formatted as text, the leading zeros may be dropped and the code will appear as an invalid diagnosis code of "30".

File Format:

In the comma-delimited set, the length of each field and the length of each record will vary according to the data reported. To assist you in using the comma-delimited patient-level datasets, a header row identifying each data element is provided in the position of the first record. The SAS dataset was created using SAS version 9.1 for Windows.

The attributes for each data field is provided on the following pages.

External Cause of Injury - Principal E-Code

Field Name: Ec_prin

Definition: The external cause of injury or poisoning or adverse effect code (E800-E999) which describes the mechanism that resulted in the most severe injury, poisoning, or adverse effect related to the admission. An E-code is to be reported on the record for the first episode of care reportable to OSHPD during which the injury, poisoning, and/or adverse effect was diagnosed and/or treated. If a patient was first diagnosed in a doctor's office and then sent to an ED or AS facility, the E-code was reported on the ED or AS record. If the E-code has been previously reported on a discharge or encounter, the E-code will not be reported again on the encounter record. They are coded according to the ICD-9-CM. E870-E879 for misadventures and abnormal reactions are not required for reporting.

Variable Length: 7

External Cause of Injury - Other E-Code (up to 4)

Field Name(s): EC1 – EC4

Definition: The additional external cause of injury or poisoning or adverse effect codes (E800-E999) that completely describe the mechanisms that contributed to, or the causal events surrounding, any injury, poisoning, or adverse effect. Up to 4 other E-codes should be included for the first reportable episode of care during which the injury, poisoning, or adverse effect was diagnosed and/or treated only. If a patient was diagnosed in a doctor's office and then sent to an ED or AS facility, the E-code was reported on the ED or AS record. If the E-code has been previously reported on a discharge or encounter, the E-code will not be reported again on the encounter record. They are coded according to the ICD-9-CM. E870-E879 for misadventures and abnormal reactions are not required for reporting.

Variable Length: 7

Principal Diagnosis

Appendix G

Race and Ethnicity Definitions

July - December 2008

Race and Ethnicity data is most accurate when the patients are asked to identify their own race and ethnicity. Self-identification may include the use of a form displaying race/ethnicity choices. Because data quality deteriorates when assumptions are based on the patient's or a family member's name, physical appearance, place of birth, or primary language, hospitals are instructed to code Race and Ethnicity as "Unknown" if the patient or family member is unable or unwilling to declare. The parents declare the ethnicity and race of a newborn. If the parent(s) is unable or unwilling to declare the newborn's race, it is appropriate for the facility reporting to OSHPD to report the ethnicity and race of the mother for that of the newborn. Multiracial patients may choose any one of the categories that is at least partially accurate (including "other"). For more discussion and examples of coding guidelines, see the California Emergency Department and Ambulatory Surgery Data Reporting Manual at <http://www.oshpd.ca.gov/HID/MIRCal/EDASManual.html>.
