On behalf of the Board of Trustees, I'd like to present the Health Professions Education Foundation’s (HPEF) 2014-2015 Annual Report.

With each passing year, the need for medical professionals in the state of California has become more acute due to a rapidly growing population. This is especially true in areas that are considered medically underserved or unserved in our state. In addition, costs for medical education continue to rise, which create financial hurdles for those who choose to pursue a career in the medical field. It is imperative that organizations such as HPEF do what they can to make sure that financial reasons are not what hinder a prospective medical professional from achieving their goal of helping fellow members of their community.

We look forward to working with all community partners, both in the public and private sector, to make sure that quality healthcare is available to all that want and need it.

Scott Sillers
President
Board of Trustees

The Health Professions Education Foundation (HPEF) is meeting the challenge of addressing access to culturally competent health professionals in California’s areas of unmet need, thereby improving health outcomes in underserved communities.

This annual report reflects the HPEF’s robust engagement in cooperative partnerships that benefit underserved communities for a healthier California.

Robert P. David
Director
Office of Statewide Health Planning and Development
The Health Professions Education Foundation (HPEF) is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit public benefit corporation housed within the Office of Statewide Health Planning and Development. It was statutorily created in 1987 to address the acute shortage of health professionals, especially in rural communities and inner cities. Since its establishment, HPEF has offered 13 scholarship and loan repayment programs to support health professional students and graduates who are dedicated to providing direct patient care in medically underserved areas (MUAs).

As of 2014, the HPEF has awarded over 10,911 applicants representing medical and mental health professionals practicing in all of California’s 58 counties. These awards help students and graduates fulfill their dreams of pursuing careers as health professionals and caring for underserved populations. HPEF is proud to support the needs of our state’s diverse health profession student population and the healthcare workforce to expand access to quality healthcare.

Programs

Allied Healthcare Scholarship and Loan Repayment Programs

The Allied Healthcare Scholarship (AHS) and Allied Healthcare Loan Repayment Programs (AHLRP) are offered to allied healthcare students and graduates. Eligible applicants may receive scholarships and loan repayments of up to $8,000 per year in exchange for a 12-month service obligation.

Vocational Nursing Scholarship and Loan Repayment Programs

HPEF’s vocational nursing (VN) programs include the Vocational Nurse Scholarship Program (VNSP), the Licensed Vocational Nurse to Associate Degree Nursing Loan Repayment Program (LVN to ADN), and the Licensed Vocational Nurse Loan Repayment Program (LVNLRP). These programs are funded through a $5 surcharge for the renewal of VN licenses in California. Eligible applicants for VNSP may receive a scholarship of up to $4,000; LVN to ADN program awardees may receive a scholarship of up to $8,000; and LVNLRP awardees may receive a loan repayment of up to $6,000. In return, recipients commit to a two-year service obligation of practicing direct patient care at a qualified facility in California.

Associate Degree Nursing and Bachelors of Science Nursing Scholarship and Loan Repayment Programs

The Associate Degree Nursing Scholarship Program (ADN), the Bachelors of Science Nursing Scholarship Program (BSNSP), and the Bachelor of Science Nursing Loan Repayment Programs (BSNLRP) are offered to students and graduates seeking careers as registered nurses. ADN scholarship awardees may be awarded up to $10,000; BSNSP awardees, up to $13,000; and BSNLRP awardees, up to $8,000. If previously awarded, you may receive a second award for up to $11,000. In return, recipients commit to a two-year service obligation of practicing direct patient care at a qualified facility in California.

Licensed Mental Health Services Provider Education Program

The Licensed Mental Health Services Provider Education Program (LMHSPEP) is funded through a $10 surcharge for renewal and licensure fees of psychologists, marriage and family therapists, and licensed clinical social workers in California. An awardee may receive up to $15,000 to repay educational loans in exchange for a two-year commitment to practicing and providing direct care in a publicly funded or public mental health facility, a non-profit mental health facility, a mental health professions shortage area, or in a public mental health system.

Mental Health Loan Assumption Program

The Mental Health Loan Assumption Program (MHLAP) was created by the Mental Health Services Act (MHSA), passed by California voters in November 2004. The Act provides funding to develop a loan forgiveness program in order to retain qualified professionals working within the Public Mental Health System. Through the Workforce Education and Training component of MHSA, $10 million is allocated yearly to loan assumption awards. An award recipient may receive up to $10,000 to repay educational loans in exchange for a 12-month service obligation in a hard-to-fill or retain position within the county public mental health system.

Advanced Practice Healthcare Scholarship and Loan Repayment Programs

Funded by private grants and contributions, the Advanced Practice Healthcare Scholarship Program (APHSP) and the Advanced Practice Healthcare Loan Repayment Program (APHLRP) increase the number of health professionals associated with advanced practice careers. Those awarded may receive up to $50,000. If awarded, recipients agree to a two-year service obligation practicing direct patient care at a qualified facility in California.

Steven M. Thompson Physician Corps Loan Repayment Program

The Steven M. Thompson Physician Corps Loan Repayment Program (STLRP) is funded through a $25 surcharge from Physician licensure and renewal fees, $1 million from the Managed Care Administrative Fines and Penalties Fund, and private grants and donations. This program encourages recently licensed physicians to practice in Health Professional Shortage Areas in California. The program authorizes a plan for repaying up to $105,000 in educational loans in exchange for full-time service for a minimum of three years.

AWARDEE TESTIMONIALS

Being awarded the Licensed Mental Health Services Provider Education Program award has had a positive effect on my career. The award has allowed me to serve a broader subset of our population, particularly individuals who are unable to cover my fee. By serving Oakland and the surrounding cities of Oakland, I reach a fairly wide range of clients who are less likely to seek mental health services.

I completed graduate studies, the pre-doctoral residency, and a postdoctoral fellowship out of state and I really wanted to give back to my community. I am honored to serve as one of the few African-American male psychologists under 40 in this area.

I thank the Health Professions Education Foundation for this opportunity.

I always knew I wanted to treat the underserved even before dental school. Upon graduating, I was so excited to be offered a position working with mostly migrant workers at a community center in central California. These people work so hard and yet do not have access to medical or dental services, which are basic needs that are essential for their wellbeing and health. Working in a rural area has its challenges, but I am came prepared. I am so fortunate to be awarded by the Health Professions Education Foundation. The award has allowed me to continue providing care in this location. I love what I do, providing dentistry for those who need it the most.
I was awarded by the Health Professions Education Foundation for nursing for 2014 through 2015 which has been a blessing in allowing me to pay back my school loans and helped me in striving to help patients in an underserved community. I went into nursing because I take pride in helping and teaching patients to be able to care for themselves and their families. I am committed to my community. This program is one giant step in the positive direction of education and improving how we serve our community. I am proud to be a part of the Bachelors of Science Nursing Loan Repayment Program and appreciate all the help that HPEF has given me. Thank you for giving me the opportunity to be a part of this program.

My work is varied, which I love. Some days I see teens and young adults with chronic illness and disabilities, which have greatly impacted their lives—but their strength and resilience, as well as that of their families, never ceases to amaze me. Other days, I see youth in need of sexual and reproductive healthcare—and I relish the opportunity to help them stay on track with their education and life plans, by helping prevent unplanned pregnancies and STIs. I also feel that they love having a supportive, non-judgmental, respectful medical provider whom they can turn to for this care. And yet other days, I work with morbidly obese youth trying to turn their health around through difficult but necessary lifestyle change. In short, I feel I am doing my life’s work; however, given the reality of today’s health economics in the US, I would be much more hard-pressed financially without the loan assistance provided by the Steven M. Thompson Physician Corps Loan Repayment Program. I am so grateful and indebted to you—thank you STLRP!
